IX. Director's Report – In her report, Director Chiocchi reported that winter programs have been well attended despite frigid temperatures and inclement weather disruptions. The statistic for overall visits is inaccurate this month because the door counting sensor has not operated properly and is being worked on. Chiocchi explained that the final missing piece for a grant that funded the generator was submitted to the Department of Library Development. The Library now awaits reimbursement. She has also secured the services of Goshen business Pay Day Employer Solutions to process the Library's payroll. Also, the Library received the second installment from an Orange County grant in the amount of $3,250 from the Orange County Legislature's Planning Department through an agreement with the Orange Library Association (OLA). The agreement states that the funds be used to offset technical fees that libraries pay, including fees paid to RCLS. Chiocchi informed the Board about a very impactful Narcan training program provided by Lauren Mandel, founder of Keep it Moving Zane. The training was attended by 15 staff members and is good for two years. Narcan is available in the building for emergencies. Finally, Chiocchi explained that due to recent court-ordered tax refunds in proposed settlements of the Galleria at Crystal Run and Meinwald tax certioraris, the Goshen School District notified the Library that a statute in Section 726(1)(c) of the Real Property Tax Law allows (but does not require) a school board to charge back any portion of any court-ordered tax refund in a tax certiorari proceeding attributable to a school district public library. Since the District's tax refund exposure in the proposal includes the Goshen Public Library taxes that were collected, the Board of Education decided to revisit the question of whether to charge back the Library for its share of the refunds in those proceedings. Since the settlement with the Crystal Run Galleria was quite large, the Board of Education felt it necessary to begin charging the Library for its share. Rising costs and minimal revenue from state aid led to the decision. Chiocchi will communicate with the District on repayment options.
